

GIM Summit Day Tickets Available Now

To ensure that everyone is able to take their rightful place at the GIM International Summit the Conference Committee is now offering last-minute day tickets. As the organiser of this brand new event, GIM International has secured a number of high-profile international speakers – each of them heavyweights in their particular sphere. In their keynotes, they will each suggest how geomatics can play a role in their respective areas of expertise. Delegates will then discuss and explore the topics further from a practical perspective in a series of interactive workshops.

The GIM International Summit will be held from 10-12 February 2016 in the very heart of Amsterdam, The Netherlands and is focused on connecting the geospatial sector with the challenges faced by modern society. The event is set to be a dynamic combination of conference and workshops during which delegates will be expected to make a meaningful contribution by sharing their constructive thoughts and ideas. Leading geospatial innovators Trimble and RIEGL are sponsors of the GIM International Summit and international branch organisations FIG, GSDI, ICA, ISPRS, OGC and RICS all are partners of the event.

Day tickets cost EUR300 and give you the opportunity to visit the first or second day of the event. To order your day tickets, please click here to send an email to our marketing and sales assistant Ms Myrthe van der Schuit.
