

Interactive Map for Italian Earthquake

This ShakeMap is designed as a rapid response tool to portray the extent and variation of ground shaking throughout the affected region immediately following significant earthquakes in the mid-Italian region around Nordia. This Shakemap has then been enriched to show key demographic variables.

Also content from Twitter and Youtube is made available using the geo-coding and keyword options allowing to link local information about the incident.

