

The Year in Infrastructure 2011

Bentley Systems, USA, has made the digital version of The Year in Infrastructure 2011 available online, and printed copies can be requested. This 240-page yearbook highlights the extraordinary work of Bentley users improving the world's infrastructure. It features descriptions and colour images of the more than 300 project nominations recognised and 20 winners honoured at the 2011 Be Inspired Awards ceremony which was held in November 2011 at Bentley's Be Inspired: Thought Leadership in Infrastructure event in Amsterdam, The Netherlands.

Bentley's Be Inspired Awards competition acknowledges outstanding achievement and innovation in infrastructure design, construction, and operations. The winners are selected by independent panels of expert jurors representing a broad range of infrastructure disciplines.

Also highlighted in the yearbook are the four projects that won the 2011 Be Inspired Special Recognition Awards. Candidates for these awards are placed into nomination by the independent panels of jurors for their uniquely innovative and visionary achievements embracing multiple Be Inspired Awards categories. The winners are then selected by a panel of Bentley executives.

The digital edition of The Year in Infrastructure 2011 additionally provides links to this year's Be Inspired Awards finalist project presentations posted on Bentley's Be Connected online video library. The presentations offer insights into the design and business innovations and best practices employed to achieve the outstanding project results that placed these nominations among the jurors' top choices.

To view the digital version of The Year in Infrastructure 2011, along with all previous editions of this publication, visit www.bentley.com/YearInInfrastructure. To request a print copy of The Year in Infrastructure 2011, visit www.bentley.com/2011yearbook.