

3-GIS at GISWORX 2012

3-GIS, a GIS software solutions company based in Decatur, US, will exhibit at the GISWORX Conference and Expo held at the Convention Centre of Al Bustan Rotana Hotel in Dubai from 1 to 3 May 2012. 3-GIS's chief technical officer, Tommy Siniard and Program Director, Lee Nelson will also be presenting.

Tommy Siniard will lead workshops during the conference focused on the roles GIS is playing in the emergency management, mobile and telecommunications markets.

3-GIS's programme director, Lee Nelson, will present mobile technology and SEWA Project Presentation. He sees that the advancement the company have been making in mobile technology in the workforce has changed rapidly in the past year.

3-GIS will be demonstrating new solutions and business strategies as they continue to expand and develop new products for telecom and utility industries. New developments made by 3-GIS in the Android and Apple mobile markets show the remarkable speed in which the GIS is growing.

<https://www.gim-international.com/content/news/3-gis-at-gisworx-2012>
