

Broader Access to GIS for SRK

SRK Consulting, an international consulting company that provides focused advice and solutions for earth and water resource industries, recently signed a global enterprise license agreement (ELA) with Esri. The agreement includes 36 SRK affiliates in ten countries and gives SRK unlimited use of Esri desktop and server software.

The enterprise license agreement will provide SRK Consulting with increased access to GIS technology at a significant savings, according to Brett Bingham, GISP, global ELA manager, SRK Consulting.

The global ELA supports the many facets of SRK's operations throughout its affiliates, which address different areas of GIS administration. The agreement will allow SRK to leverage and share GIS applications and workflows developed within their independent offices.
