

Call for Intergeo News

Intergeo 2010 will be taking place from 5th to 7th October 2010 in Cologne (Germany). As every year, GIM International is dedicating its October issue to the Intergeo. And each year too we offer companies the opportunity to publish a short outline of themselves and their latest products in advance of the event. Will your company be exhibiting, presenting new products or organising an event? If so, GIM International would like to hear about it!

Companies represented at Intergeo are invited to send a short contribution (in about 100 words, including booth number and optionally one full-colour, 300dpi, illustration, including caption) about the company's show plans, product launches, and initiatives. Publication is completely free of charge. Submitted copy will be handled as editorial content, this means no costs for your company.

Please send your contribution before Wednesday 8th September 2010 to: Wim van Wegen, Editorial Manager at Geomares Publishing.

The information will not be released before October 2010.

It also is possible to schedule a meeting to discuss your company's editorial possibilities in GIM International.

Note: for information about advertising, please contact our Sales Manager, Victor van Essen.
