

CycloMedia Selected for 20 Most Promising GIS Companies

CIO Review has selected CycloMedia for its 20 Most Promising GIS Companies in July. The positioning is based on evaluation of CycloMedia's specialties in Cycloramas, GlobeSpotter Cloud or Server, GlobeSpotter, and GlobeSpotter API. The annual list of companies is selected by a panel of experts and members of CIO Review's editorial board to recognise and promote technology entrepreneurship.

CycloMedia has been on CIO Review's radar for some time now for stirring a revolution in the GIS space, and the editors of the magazine are happy to showcase them this year due to their continuing excellence in delivering top-notch technology-driven solutions, said Harvi Sachar, publisher and founder, CIO Review. CycloMedia's solutions continued to break new ground within the past year benefiting its customers around the globe, he added.

CycloMedia is honoured to be recognised by CIO Review's panel of experts and thought leaders, said Paul Smith, general manager of CycloMedia.

Annual List

Annual list showcases the 20 Most Promising GIS Companies focused on offering GIS Solutions; CycloMedia makes it to CIO Review's 20 GIS Companies list for its expertise in developing complete end-to-end solution for imagery collecting, automated data processing and cloud based hosting of geo-referenced imagery, as well as developer tools for creating and distributing applications that benefit from this data.

See here for the article in CIO Review Magazine.

<https://www.gim-international.com/content/news/cyclomedia-selected-for-20-most-promising-gis-companies>
