

Deimos Imaging Awarded with Million Dollar Contract in Brazil

The Earth observation company Deimos Imaging SLU, a subsidiary of UrtheCast, has entered into a contract with the Brazilian Ministry of Defence's Aeronautics Command (COMAER) exceeding US$2.6 million.

The contract requires Deimos Imaging to supply Earth observation products and services from the Deimos-2 satellite, during an initial period of three years that could be extended up to five years. Payments are expected to be spread equally over the initial three-year period. Under the contract, Deimos Imaging will collect new satellite imagery and provide access to the catalogue of archived imagery. The data will feed the geoinformation needs of the Brazilian government and institutions, accelerating and improving actionable decision-making in a wide range of applications.

Deimos Imaging's extensive experience provides quality control processes, technical knowledge and significant expertise. Additionally, its multi-resolution virtual constellation of over 30 satellites guarantees exceptional revisit capabilities worldwide.
