

ICES Agrees Accreditation of Two New MSc Courses

After recent discussions with the University of Exeter (UK), and Hong Kong Polytechnic University, in November 2005, the Institution of Civil Engineering Surveyors (ICES) (UK) agreed the accreditation of two new courses.

- MSc in Surveying and Land/ Environmental Management at the Camborne School of Mines (School of Geography, Archaeology and Earth Resources), University of Exeter, Cornwall.
- MSc Geomatics (GIS and Survey options) at the Hong Kong Polytechnic University.

ICES has established a comprehensive accreditation network with many reputable universities in the UK, Ireland and Hong Kong, who provide commercial management and geospatial engineering courses.

<https://www.gim-international.com/content/news/ices-agrees-accreditation-of-two-new-msc-courses>
