

Optech at SASGI Conference

Optech, Canada, is participating in the trade show at the SASGI Conference being held this year in Johannesburg, South Africa, on 23 and 24 July 2013. The company is providing 4 hours of workshops recommended for professionals interested in leveraging new airborne, mobile and terrestrial surveying solutions to secure profitable business opportunities.

SASGI is an event for surveyors, mapping institutions and geomatics companies in Africa. It offers an opportunity to network with local and international experts and understand the benefits of using the latest mapping technology solutions.

SASGI attendees are invited to participate in the Optech workshops and stop by the Optech booth at the event. The number of seats is limited, and attendees aiming to attend are requested to register their interest.
