

Oviatt Joins Sokkia

Heidi Oviatt has joined Sokkia Corporation as regional sales manager for the Western United States. Prior to joining Sokkia, Oviatt worked for Trimble in various positions for the inside sales team, including inside sales supervisor, working closely with all survey dealers.

Brice Walker, vice president of sales for the Survey Business Unit, said, "Heidi's sales experience and dealer relationships will be a great asset to our team."

"I'm grateful to join a company so focused on getting great products to the survey market and helping its dealers succeed," Oviatt said of her new position. "I look forward to strengthening the relationships I have with many of the Sokkia dealers and starting new ones with those I haven't worked with before."
