

Racurs Releases 2013 Conference Review

The 13th Racurs Conference entitled 'From Imagery to Map: Digital Photogrammetric Technologies' was held earlier this year in Fontainebleau, France. The list of participants was notable and, with a master-class on the field interpretation of remote sensing data in addition to the traditional sessions, business meetings and seminars, two round tables devoted to the actual questions of cartography and geoinformatics and the famous social programme, the event offered a fully packed agenda.

A review of the conference can now be found at the Racurs website. Besides a review, abstracts, presentations, conference photos and movies and a video channel of the conference are also available.