

Simplify Workflow Management

ESRI is to conduct a free, live training seminar this month demonstrating Job Tracking for ArcGIS (JTX), ESRI's software for tracking project information and simplifying workflows. Getting Started with JTX to Manage Workflow will air on Thursday, 18th March 2010, at 9:00AM, 11:00AM., and 3:00PM Pacific time; noon, 2:00PM., and 6:00OPM. Eastern time; and 4:00PM, 6:00PM, and 10:00PM UTC/GMT.

The seminar will introduce improvements to JTX that will be available in the upcoming release of ArcGIS 10. Attendees will learn how JTX can help them design, document, manage, and execute workflows across an organisation and in all phases of a project.

Attendees of the seminar will learn:

- Basic JTX functionality
- How to improve productivity by streamlining tasks
- How to create workflows
- How to track and manage workflow progress

A broadband Internet connection and an ESRI Global Account are needed to watch the seminar. Creating a global account is easy and free: visit www.esri.com/lts, click Login, and register your name and address. A few weeks after the live presentation, the seminar will be archived and available for viewing on the ESRI Training Website.

<https://www.gim-international.com/content/news/simplify-workflow-management>
