

SuperGeo Collaboration with Geoconnect in Australia

SuperGeo Technologies, Taiwan, has announced the appointment of a reseller in Australia: Geoconnect is authorised to provide SuperGIS series software to domestic clients.

Geoconnect provides a variety of GIS software and hardware such as GPS, GNSS, rugged computers and related software to precisely carry out ground surveying and complete spatial data collection. The main clientele varies from governments and enterprises to individuals. The benefited areas include utilities, mining, natural sciences and environment, and public safety and security industries.

As the geospatial market continues to expand year on year in Oceania, the GIS industry has major potential. Being one of the global GIS solution providers, SuperGeo hopes to spread GIS knowledge along with the reliable SuperGIS series products to satisfy the demands for GIS applications in the local market and to develop fruitful collaborations with international business partners.
